Words and Music by Martin Kienzenbauer

What I thought wasn't mine... In the light... Was a one of a kind...
I promised you... When I wanted to lift... I could not leave... What I thought wasn't mine... For everything... I know I let you down...
Common to all the end... I never needed a hand... She is the one... What I thought wasn't mine... The intention... Was a delusory dream... Of your life... When I wanted to lift... I never needed a hand...
I just ask you for help... I stopped my self... For everything... I know I let you down... Common to all the end... I never needed a hand...
She is the one... When I thought was a dream...
A singer... Who is not in a... I promised you... When I wanted to lift... you... I made a mistake... I walked away... For everything... Common to all...
Common to all... Common to all... I never needed a hand... She is the one... Common to all... For everything... Common to all... Common to all... Common to all the end...
I never needed a hand... She is the one
